Letter from Daniel Pierce Library Board of Trustees and Staff

Dear Friends,

The Daniel Pierce Library continues to be a center for community activity. On any given night you can see the variety of groups that utilize the Library (Fair Association, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, AYSO, Time and the Valleys Museum, The Lion's Club, Neversink Renaissance, 4H groups, or the Chamber of Commerce), in addition to patrons using the computers, attending a class or simply enjoying a good book.

We continue our commitment to the children, teens, and adults in our community by offering a variety of programs that appeal to all ages. Our early literacy based preschool programs (Mother Goose Time, Toddler Time, and Story Hour) continue to be a staple for the youth in our community. Through our literacy-based preschool programs, over 110 children from our community participated in both our spring and fall programs in 2016. In addition, we continued our "Story Hour on the Road" program with the Universal Pre-Kindergarten classes at Tri-Valley Central School.

Once again, in 2016 our summer literacy initiatives were a success. Approximately 390 people, both children and adults, participated in our Summer Reading Programs and Entertainment Night. Through these programs, children gain the benefits of continuing to read during the summer months.

Our goal is to meet the needs of our community by offering a wide variety of programs for both children and adults. This past year alone we were able to offer a variety of S.T.E.A.M (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Math) programs for children K-6 in the TVCS school district, as well as cooking classes, art classes, book discussion groups, early literacy based programs, music programs, computer classes and much more. It is because of the generosity of our community and amazing group of volunteers who constantly and consistently support the library that we are able to do all of this. Volunteers are the heart of our organization, and in 2016 these volunteers donated over 14,000 hours of service to the library for operation, building maintenance, and fundraising.

We are asking for a small increase in taxes this year of $19,348. This increase is due to additional costs for operating and maintaining the library, such as electricity and health insurance, and costs associated with updating our technology. With over 5,340 taxpayers in the school district, this amount per household will be minimal for the average homeowner.

Please accept our sincerest appreciation for your role in helping us provide excellent library services and programs that promote literacy and learning in our community. We invite you to attend our informational meeting on Tuesday, June 6th at 7:00 p.m. in the Community Room located in the lower level of the library. We also hope you will come out and vote on Tuesday, June 13th, at the Daniel Pierce Library from 12 noon to 8:00 p.m.

Sincerely,
Board of Trustees and Staff
Daniel Pierce Library

Nature Column - Linda Comando

A tribute to the memory of all of the Townsman ladies that we have lost and loved so much... Peggy DeWire, Avril Pappa, Joan Hall, Polly Hill, Joyce Lockhart and Jean Helthaler.

Butterflies are Back Puddling

With the cold damp rain on Monday, Memorial Day many of us are probably wondering when we will start getting consistent warmer weather.

If it wasn't for noticing a few Tiger Swallowtail (Papilio t. t.) 'puddling' in the many puddles in our back yard over the weekend, I would have thought it was still April. Usually we begin to see Swallowtail butterflies in late May or early June.

Perhaps you too, noticed a few of these beautiful butterflies over the past few days. You will see the male Tiger Swallowtails congregate on mud, damp gravel, or puddles. They extract sodium ions and amino acids from these sources which aid in reproduction. This behavior is called puddling. Males that puddle are typically young, and puddle only for their first couple of days. Females will occasionally puddle, but do not form congregations like the males.

Male tiger swallowtails are yellow with four black "tiger stripes" on each fore wing with a few orange and blue spots near the tail, while the females may be either yellow or black, making them dimorphic (occurring in two distinct forms). The yellow morph is similar to the male, but with a conspicuous band of blue spots along the hind wing, while the dark morph is almost completely black. The dark form still has the blue spots, but it is otherwise very dark with no yellow. The Tiger Swallowtails that live during late spring and summer in the Catskills are about three inches across. All Tiger Swallowtail butterflies belong to the Papilio family and bear the trademark, a black tail on the hind wings.

Tiger Swallowtails are found all over, especially near water, but also in meadows, gardens, parks, and roadsides courageously flying above the tree canopy then down to the ground to feed or drink flying away again over the fields and into the woods. During courtship, the male and female fly about each other prior to landing and mating. The male releases perfume-like pheromones during courtship to entice the female.

Females lay their eggs singly on the host plant leaves, with little or no embryonic development within the mother. The egg is round and green, later turning yellowish-green with reddish dots. The size of the egg is large for a butterfly. It is .03 inches in height and .5 inch in width. A week later it hatches into a jade green caterpillar with two big white eyespots. Its first food is its own eggshell, then leaves and more leaves. It will molt three times as it grows bigger. When the caterpillars are fully grown, they will then become pupae (resting stage). The name for a butterfly pupae is chrysalis. Upon changing into a brown chrysalis, it will spin a single strong silk thread to support itself at a slant on a twig.

Then about ten days later a yellow butterfly will emerge to become another beautiful black-striped Tiger Swallowtail.

After first seeing these beautiful butterflies in late spring we will again see them in late summer when the second or even a third brood hatches.

Enjoy their sunny optimism - summer is just around the corner!

Household Hints

Clean windshield wiper blades

When your windshield actually gets blurrier after you turn on your wipers during a rainstorm, it usually means that your wiper blades are dirty. To make them as good as new, dampen a cloth or rag with some full-strength white vinegar and run it down the full length of each blade once or twice.

A Divided Spy

Mysterious Book Report No. 289

by John Dwaine McKenna

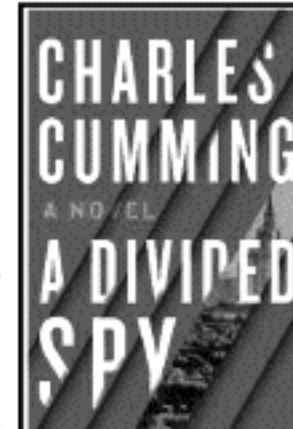

For some arcane reason . . . known only to themselves and the cosmos . . . the Brits are the masters of the spy novel universe. One only has to think of the names Ian Fleming and John LeCarré, or their iconic fictional spies, James Bond and George Smiley to know what we mean. But now, there's another writer from the English Isles by the name of Charles Cumming, who's created the next unforgettable MI6 super-spy. His name is Thomas Kell. In his third, and newest installment;

A Divided Spy, (St. Martin's Press, $26.99, 356 pages, ISBN 978-1-250-02104-5) Mr. Cumming has Thomas Kell in limbo. Bitter, disillusioned and apparently, done with MI6, the secret service he's devoted his entire life to. All Kell has left is grief . . . for the woman he loved who was murdered in Istanbul by Russian operatives, and rage . . . at the Kremlin and it's clandestine service: The SVR. Wallowing in grief, anger and self-pity, a chance encounter at a remote Red Sea resort offers Kell an opportunity for revenge against the Russian agent who orchestrated that death. Plotting to avenge her assassination, Kell goes rogue, mounting an outside-the-law effort to 'turn' the SVR agent by recruiting him as a double agent. The Russian would be reporting SVR and Kremlin secrets to the SIS . . . the British Secret Intelligence Service. But, the business of spies is lies, and an exquisite game of cat-and-mouse ensues; during which it's hard to tell who is recruiting who.

At the same time, radical Islamic terrorists are plotting a devastating, catastrophic and bloody terror attack on an unsuspecting group of British vacationers. In a masterful piece of plotting, author Cumming seamlessly blends the two elements and boils them down to a terrible dilemma for Thomas Kell: loyalty to himself, or loyalty to his country? The answer will leave the reader gasping for breath and looking for other novels by this exacting thriller writer!

World No Tobacco Day Celebrated

Tobacco control can break the cycle of poverty, contribute to ending hunger, promote sustainable agriculture and economic growth, and combat climate change. Increasing taxes on tobacco products can also be used to finance universal health coverage and other development programs of the government.

But it's not only governments who can step up tobacco control efforts: people can contribute on an individual level to making a sustainable, tobacco-free world. People can commit to never take up tobacco products. Those who do use tobacco can quit the habit, or seek help in doing so, which will in turn protect their health as well as people exposed to second-hand smoke, including children, other family members and friends. Money not spent on tobacco can be spent to include the purchase of healthy food, healthcare and education. (<http://www.who.int/campaigns/no-tobacco>)

Did you know? Tobacco growing requires large amounts of pesticides and fertilizers, which can be toxic and pollute water supplies. Each year, tobacco growing results in 10.6 million acres in global deforestation between 2% and 4%. Tobacco manufacturing also produces over 2 million tons of solid waste.

The community was encouraged to visit the Government Center lobby in Monticell on World No Tobacco Day on May 31, from 11 a.m.-2 p.m., to talk to Sullivan County Public Health Services for free quit-smoking information and ask about the free nicotine patch program, or call 845-513-2222.

SCACC Holds First Annual "Rehabilitation Reunion Celebration"

On May 12, six persons from throughout Sullivan County attended the first of its kind reunion at the Sullivan County Adult Care Center. All the attendees had one fact in common - they had been residents of the Center's short-term rehabilitation unit during the past three years. The reunion provided a great opportunity to visit with the Center's staff and renew acquaintances.

The short-term rehabilitation unit, opened in May of 2014, serves persons recovering from surgery, broken bones and hospital stays. While all those in attendance had been in the unit for different reasons, all agreed that the care was exceptional and allowed them to recover and return home.

The Olive Jar - By Carol LaMonda

Imagine Peace

I did a little informal survey. I asked people what they thought about when they celebrate Memorial Day. The answers were similar: cook-outs, barbecues, parades, flags, hot-dogs, hamburgers, steaks, yard sales, flowers for graves, and honoring veterans. Most of our weekends will include some or all of the above. Teachers and students added that it also means the school year is drawing to a close with tests and graduations and field trips.

My father was and my husband is a veteran. If you ask a veteran why they served, you probably will get one of two answers: "I wanted to defend my country" or "for peace." The strange thing is that, no matter the war, each side is fighting for the same thing. Every soldier has a family worth fighting for. Each side feels a patriotic duty to country and peace.

I am hoping that each of you, when you fire up that grill, remembers that the goal is peace. Here's some advice from three wise souls who, usually, don't often get quoted together: Jimi Hendrix, John Lennon and Mother Teresa.

County Executive Mike Hein Proclaims National EMS Week in Ulster County & Recognizes the Dedication of all EMS Providers (From Pg. 1)

This year's National EMS Week theme is "EMS STRONG: Always in Service." This theme recognizes our EMS Providers and their constant service to communities through first response, treatment and transport, prevention and intervention through Community Paramedicine and Mobile Integrated Healthcare.

Michael P. Hein, Ulster County Executive

"Our EMS Personnel are invaluable and play a vital role in our community saving lives every day," said County Executive Mike Hein. "They are usually the first to arrive at the scene of an accident or other emergency situation and have the ability to provide both basic and advanced medical care on the spot. Ulster County recognizes and salutes all of our emergency medical services professionals and we thank them for all they do to safeguard the health, safety and well-being of our residents. Many EMS organizations need additional help so I also encourage anyone who may be considering working in the EMS field to contact your local organization. For more information please visit the County website or contact our Emergency Services Department at 845-331-7000. Once again, we thank each and every one of these amazing men and women for all that they do and for the lives that they change."

Steve Peterson, Ulster County Director of Emergency Services – "The men and women who serve in Ulster County's Emergency Medical Services are "Always in Service" and responded to 26,643 calls for service in 2016," said Steve Peterson, Ulster County Director of Emergency Services. "These dedicated professionals serve Ulster County with compassion, skill and dedication each and every day as they put their lives on the line protecting our residents and visitors. We are sincerely grateful for each and every one of them, EMS STRONG!"

Richard Muellerleile, Ulster County Emergency Medical Services Coordinator and Chief of the Town of Shandaken Ambulance Service – "This EMS week

we recognize those dedicated individuals that work day in and day out to rectify the worst days of others' lives. Our EMS professionals are undoubtedly the superhumans that Ulster County expects them to be, and our citizens and visitors are truly fortunate to have such dedicated individuals at the front line of medicine," said Richard Muellerleile, Ulster County EMS Coordinator, Deputy Chief, Town of Shandaken Ambulance Service. "County Executive Hein's dedication to all of our first responders, commitment to our advancement, and recognition of our hard work exemplifies strong leadership in its truest sense."

Everett Erichsen, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Ulster County Fire Chiefs Association and Assistant Chief of the Highland Fire District – "County Executive Mike Hein continues to diligently work with Emergency Services to ensure that we stay at the forefront of education, recruitment and retention to ensure that the residents of Ulster County receive the best services possible. I appreciate his efforts in working with us to accomplish these goals," said Everett Erichsen, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Ulster County Fire Chiefs Association and Assistant Chief of the Highland Fire District.

Currently in Ulster County there are 14 basic life support (EMT Level) non-transporting agencies. The non-transporting agencies consist primarily of fire departments and police agencies that are certified to provide EMT Level care before an ambulance arrives. There are currently 12 basic life support (EMT Level) transporting EMS organizations, and 5 advanced life support (paramedic level) transporting ambulance services in Ulster County. EMS is the second busiest emergency service in Ulster County - surpassed only by the police agencies in call volume.

There are three agencies that provide EMS training in Ulster County: Mobile Life Support Services, Woodstock EMS Programs, and the Ulster County Ambulance Association. These organizations have trained thousands of practitioners since their inception and are an indispensable part required for the sustainability of the EMS system.

The board of directors of the Delaware Valley Arts Alliance (DVAA) is pleased to announce that Ariel Shanberg will join the organization as Executive Director in June 2017. Shanberg succeeds Elaine Giguere who co-founded and oversaw the non-profit arts organization for 42 years.

"The Board of Directors is excited and thrilled with Ariel's selection as our Executive Director," says DVAA Board President Jeffrey Allison. "He is experienced in managing arts organizations, but even more importantly, he has a passion for the arts and how the arts build community. We look forward to introducing Ariel to everyone."

From 2003-2015, Shanberg was the Executive Director at the Center for Photography at Woodstock. Under his leadership CPW received numerous accolades including the 2009 Spotlight Award for significantly altering the landscape of photography from the Lucie Foundation, the 2014 Ulster County Executive Arts Award for Arts Organization of the Year. In 2014, its residency program was listed as one of the top twenty programs in the United States.

Shanberg recently relocated from Woodstock, NY to Woodridge, NY.

"I couldn't be more thrilled to be joining the staff and board of DVAA at this exciting juncture. Elaine's remarkable vision and leadership of DVAA has truly transformed the cultural landscape of Sullivan County and I am looking forward to building on such a proud legacy," says Shanberg. (Contd. Something New for Sundown!

(From Pg. 1) But it wasn't over on Saturday! On Sunday and Monday, the yard sales continued and yard sale hunters looking for that one special item continued to visit the numerous yard sales in Sundown.

What a great way to meet neighbors, new friends from out of town and to spend a Memorial Day Weekend!

We are not certain when the next Sundown Community Miles and Miles of Yard Sale event will occur, but it is quite certain - there will be a 2nd Annual Sundown Community Miles and Miles of Yard Sale Event for Memorial Day Weekend 2018!

Thank you to all those who participated and a big thank you to those who donated baked goods to the church.

Among the wide variety of programs offered at the BOCES are: Animal Science, Auto Body, Auto Mechanics, Cosmetology, Culinary Arts, Construction/Electrical Technologies, Early Childhood, Health Occupations, New Vision Health, Natural Resources, Public Safety Services, Precision Machining, as well as one new program - Welding. In addition to the courses offered, students are part of Skills USA, an organization for trade, industrial, technical and health occupation students, which conducts contests on the local, state and national levels, in which students demonstrate their occupational skills, public speaking abilities, and leadership potential.

Woodsongs Coffeehouse Concert at the Tusten Theater in Narrowsburg Canadian Americana Artist Kaia Kate Little Sparrow will open the Show

The Sullivan County band "Little Sparrow," is pleased to present a very special Woodsongs Coffeehouse at the Tusten Theater in Narrowsburg, New York, featuring Canadian Americana Artist Kaia Kater.

Kaia is 23 years old, and recently performed at the Kennedy Center, alongside Grammy winners Judy Collins and Rosanne Cash, among others, in a tribute to Pete Seeger.

Kaia's soulful voice, deft arrangements, and powerful songwriting abilities have landed her in the spotlight in North America and the UK, garnering critical acclaim from outlets such as Rolling Stone, CBC Music and The Roots Music Report. She has been praised for her capacity to sound new and old at once, and her music is anchored in the space where tradition and innovation intersect.

Critics have said "...plaintive, mesmerizing...writes and performs with the skill of a folk-circuit veteran..." -Rolling Stone
Check out Kaia's music at: www.kaiakater.com.

Little Sparrow is pleased to bring Kaia to Sullivan County to perform at the Tusten Theater in Narrowsburg, New York, as part of the Woodsongs Coffeehouse concert series. Town of Neversink Spring Cleanup 2017

Spring Cleanup will be held on June 3, 7 & 21, 2017. The Transfer Station will be open during normal business hours. Residents with Yellow 2017 permits will be allowed 2 loads which must be brought during the Spring Cleanup dates. Permit cards will be punched for each load.

TVs and other electronic items can be disposed of with payment being made by SW coupons. Refrigerators, freezers, dehumidifiers and air conditioners require a Freon removal fee of $15.00 per item. Each permit holder is entitled to four free car tires. Scrap metal can be taken anytime throughout the year without charge. Due to the high volume of traffic during spring cleanup, residents are asked NOT TO bring any of these items during Spring Cleanup. Please bring these items at a later date.

The Town of Neversink Transfer Station is open only to those persons who have their household and generate their waste material in the Town of Neversink. Ownership of vacant land does not qualify for use of the facility. The Municipal Cleanup Initiative Program is made possible by the Sullivan County Legislature.

Get Rid of Your Residential Hazardous Waste

Legislative Public Works Committee Chair Joe Perrello is pleased to announce that Sullivan County will host two residential Household Hazardous Waste Collection Events this summer.

The first is scheduled for Saturday, June 17, 2017 from 12:30 PM - 4:30 PM. The second is scheduled for Sunday, July 23, 2017 from 10:00 AM - 3:00 PM. Both events will be staged at the Monticello Transfer Station - Scalehouse area, 91 Landfill Drive, Monticello, NY.

"Please participate in this environmentally-conscious chemical cleanup program," urged Legislator Perrello. "These items can be dangerous to people and the environment if stored for extensive periods of time or disposed of improperly."

This program is open to individuals with residences in Sullivan County ONLY. Although there is no charge to participate, preregistration is required. Please call 845-807-0291 between 9:00 AM and 3:00 PM weekdays to preregister during the first HHW Event enrollment period from now through Friday, June 16, 2017. Enrollment for the second HHW Collection Event begins Monday, June 26, 2017 and ends Friday, July 21, 2017.

These events are intended to collect and properly manage residentially-generated hazardous household materials, including herbicides, pesticides, mercury-containing items, cleaning products, pool chemicals, fluorescent bulbs, lead-based/oil-based paints, solvents, acids, bases, old fuels (stale gasoline/2-cycle fuel mix), automotive batteries, antifreeze and preservatives, just to name a few.

For additional information about these household hazardous waste cleanup events or questions about safer alternatives to hazardous materials in general, please contact Bill Cutler, Recycling Coordinator, at 845-807-0291 in the Sullivan County Department of Solid Waste & Recycling.

Details and event flyers can also be found on the Sullivan County website

- Q. Would it be proper for a young man, (17) to take a girl to church service? Would such an act be looked upon as suggestive of serious intentions regarding marriage?
 - A. It is proper conduct, and it is not suggestive of matrimony. If you escort a girl to a dance, then why not to church? It is well to bear in mind, however, that we go to church to worship, and that during this period the strictest attention should be given to the service.
 - Q. We have new neighbors. Should we go to see them first? Or should we wait for them to visit us?
 - A. By all means, call on your neighbors at your earliest convenience. Make your first visit a short one. If possible, take the lady of the house a little present, such as a jar of fruit or jelly, or a few plants from your garden as an expression of your friendliness.
 - Q. I would like to ask a girl to go to the movies with me, but she is not allowed to go out., at least she wasn't allowed to go out with boys last year. Should I ask her or ask her mother?
 - A. Invite the young lady to accompany you to the movies. She in turn may seek permission from her parents. If your invitation is accepted, call for your friend at her home, so her mother can get a good look at you.
 - Q. Is it proper for a husband to go out evenings without his wife, and if so, how often?
 - A. It is understood, of course, that this question refers to evenings spent by the husband in the company of other men. Every man should have the opportunity of spending an evening with other men, but the question of how often is one on which husbands and wives often disagree. A good deal depends upon circumstances in the home, and the amount of recreation the wife is able to enjoy. Upon first consideration, it would appear that the question is not capable of solution, but this is not so if one

New Vacation Cabins, Facility Upgrades and Access Areas Open for the 2017 Camping Season

Governor Andrew M. Cuomo today announced the beginning of camping season in New York this Memorial Day weekend. The Governor encouraged New Yorkers and visitors to visit parks, trails and beaches throughout the Empire State this summer, including New York's 119 campgrounds that open Friday, May 26 for the summer season.

"New York campgrounds are central to our booming tourism industry, and as the number of visitors to the Empire State continues to grow, we remain committed to improving outdoor destinations and world-class attractions in every region of the state," Governor Cuomo said. "I encourage everyone to visit a State Park this summer and experience for themselves the natural beauty and adventure New York has to offer."

New York State boasts 119 public campgrounds found throughout the Adirondacks, Catskills, Finger Lakes and Thousand Islands regions. Although campgrounds are quickly filling for Memorial Day weekend, reservations can still be made at Newtown, Cherry Plain Wildwood, Lake Taghkanic, Mills Norrie, Robert Moses, and Jacques Cartier State Parks.

Camping availability can be found through ReserveAmerica, which provides online and phone reservations for state campsites throughout New York. Reservations are accepted for campsites and cabins, from one day to nine months in advance of the planned arrival date by calling toll free 1-800-456-CAMP or online at newyork-stateparks.reserveamerica.com.

DEP Announces Start of 2017 Recreational Boating Season in the Catskills - Thousands of boaters from the watershed, New York City and beyond have paddled or sailed on reservoirs since the program began in 2012

The New York City Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) today announced that the 2017 recreational boating program will begin Friday at sunrise on four water supply reservoirs in the Catskills. The popular outdoor program, now in its sixth year, has attracted thousands of boaters to paddle or sail on Cannonsville, Pepacton, Neversink and Schoharie reservoirs.

"We encourage all our watershed neighbors and visitors to enjoy the scenic beauty of the Catskills by boating this year on one of New York City's reservoirs," DEP Acting Commissioner Vincent Sapienza said. "As DEP expands recreational access to our water supply properties, the boating program stands out as a particularly unique and successful effort to support tourism and outdoor recreation in the watershed. Participation in the program has nearly doubled since it began, and we expect that growth to continue because of expanded access, consistent marketing, and steadfast help from our partners at the Catskill Watershed Corporation."

"We're looking forward to seeing paddlers and sailors on the reservoirs for the sixth straight season," Catskill Watershed Corporation Executive Director Alan Rosa said. "It's a great way to get a feel for the Catskills, learn about the water supply, get some exercise and enjoy the peace and quiet."

A total of 1,668 boats were used through the program in 2016, an all-time record since it began in 2012. That increase was largely driven by the success of the rental program, which allows visitors to rent pre-cleaned and registered kayaks and canoes from 10 launch sites along the reservoirs. The rental program, administered by the Catskill Watershed Corporation (CWC), attracted 912 boaters in 2016, an increase of 34 percent over the previous year. Rental boats are stored on 30 racks alongside the reservoirs to promote easier access for visitors to the region and those who don't own a boat. CWC funded the storage racks, along with annual brochures to market the program and sanitary facilities at the launch sites.

Combined Total			1172		1463		1668

Note: The rental boat program began in 2014. Data from prior years reflects tags for personally owned boats only.

During the 2016 recreational boating season DEP issued 756 tags to those who own a boat, including 543 kayaks, 164 canoes, 40 rowboats, and nine sailboats. Including boat rentals, Pepacton Reservoir attracted 856 tags and rentals, the most of any reservoir, followed by 550 at Neversink, 191 at Schoharie, and 71 at Cannonsville. Nearly 40 percent of tags issued to boat owners went to residents of the five watershed counties, including Delaware, Greene, Schoharie, Sullivan, and Ulster. About 24 percent of the tags were issued to residents of New York City or Long Island. Visitors from 11 states also received tags, including Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, Idaho, Massachusetts, Maine, Michigan, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Texas.

Recreational boating season in the Catskills begins the Friday before Memorial Day and lasts until Columbus Day, from dawn till dusk. Boaters must have a DEP access permit that is available free of charge on DEP's website by visiting www.nyc.gov/dep/accesspermit. All boats used on the reservoirs must also be steam cleaned by one of the 13 DEP-certified steam cleaning vendors conveniently located across the watershed. A list of those vendors is available on the DEP website at www.nyc.gov/dep/recreation. Additional information about the recreational boating program can also be found at www.VisitTheCatskills.com/paddling. Steam cleaning helps protect against invasive plants, animals, and microorganisms that can harm water quality and fisheries. If a recreational boat is taken off reservoir property, it must be steam cleaned again before it can reenter the reservoir. Throughout the course of the recreational boating program, DEP has continuously tested water quality to ensure that none of the recreational activities has an adverse effect on New York City's drinking water supply.

Since 2003, DEP has significantly expanded the amount of city properties within the watershed that are open for recreation. There are now more than 133,000 acres of land and water open for fishing, hiking and other low-impact recreation. Of that, more than half of the land is located in public access areas that are open to recreation without the need for a DEP access permit.

DEP manages New York City's water supply, providing more than 1 billion gallons of high-quality water each day to more than 9.5 million New Yorkers. This includes more than 70 upstate communities and institutions in Ulster, Orange, Putnam and Westchester counties who consume an average of 110 million total gallons of drinking water daily from New York City's water supply system. This water comes from the Catskill, Delaware, and Croton watersheds that extend more than 125 miles from the City, and the system comprises 19 reservoirs, three controlled lakes, and numerous tunnels and aqueducts. DEP has nearly 6,000 employees, including almost 1,000 scientists, engineers, surveyors, watershed maintainers and other professionals in the watershed. In addition to its $70 million payroll and $166 million in annual taxes paid in upstate counties, DEP has invested more than $1.7 billion in watershed protection programs-including partnership organizations such as the Catskill Watershed Corporation and the Watershed Agricultural Council-that support sustainable farming practices, environmentally sensitive economic development, and local economic opportunity. In addition, DEP has a robust capital program with $20.7 billion in investments planned over the next 10 years that will create up to 3,000 construction-related jobs per year. Auditions Slated for "How I Met Your Mummy"

(South Fallsburg, NY) The Sullivan County Dramatic Workshop is holding auditions for Todd Wallinger's hysterically witty, spine-tingling farce, "How I Met Your Mummy" to be directed by Dawn Perneszi, produced by Harold Tighe. Auditions will be held on Saturday and Sunday, June 3rd and 4th from 11 am - 2 pm at the Rivoli Theatre, 5243 Route 42 (Main Street), South Fallsburg. Please come prepared to do a cold reading. If you have a monologue, you may bring that as well.

The O. Howe Dulle Museum is about to unveil their latest find - a mysterious mummy named Yo-Wut-Sup. There's nothing 'dull' about this museum, considering everyone wants to get their hands on this ancient man! A pushy reporter vows to prove Yo-Wut-Sup is a hoax. A wacky mystic intends to sneak him back to Egypt. Three high school students want to use him in their low budget horror film and two clueless robbers plan to steal him. Can Melvin Trimble, the world's most cowardly security guard, stop them - considering it's his first night on the job? Or will he be left "taking the wrap?" And why are there not one, not two, but three creepy mummies roaming the halls? Now "museum," now you don't!

Actors needed: Wanda Lucre (Female, Upper 40s-mid 50s), Dr. Dusty Bones (Female, 70+), Melvin Trimble (Male, 30s), Penny Dreadful (Female, 30s), Muggs (Male, Upper 20s-mid 30s), Sparky (Male, Upper 20s-mid 30s), Pei-nin-dah-nekh (Female, Upper 30s), Ralph (Male 17-19), Carla (Female, 17-19), Jody (Female, 17-19), Yo-Wut-Sup (Male, 20+)

Production dates are September 8-10, 15-17 at the Rivoli Theatre. For additional information or to schedule an alternate audition, please contact Dawn at (845) 796-8399 or via email at nyx6117@yahoo.com

Honoring Veteran and Former Congressman Chris Gibson

Last week, Congressman John Faso spoke to the House of Representatives about his Kinderhook neighbor and friend, former Congressman Chris Gibson. Chris has repeatedly answered the call to serve, first as an officer in the US Army with 24 years of experience and later as the representative for the 19th Congressional District. His leadership and dedication to public service will continue to stand as a model of statesmanship.
